Heroics Paul Freeman

His models are the most beautiful, rugged MEN on the planet and Paul's genius is finding them and placing them in front of his lens. His work draws the viewer into his world and makes us part of that world. Heroics is a departure from Freeman's previous works like the Bondi series or the Outback series.

Heroics is a sometimes tongue-in-cheek look at the way European men have adorned and mythologized themselves and their physical prowess, in art over the centuries, and refers for inspiration to monumental sculptures and paintings that were the work of artists who often tended to depict a fantasy of sensuality rather than the brutal masculinity of reality.

Heroics — Paul Freeman Photography

“Freeman is the best photographer of the male nude anywhere in the universe..This work takes on the heroic quality it seeks to pay homage to, through its celebration of the naked form, challenging the conservatism that are increasingly evident in Australian social and cultural practices.”

Heroics II — Paul Freeman Photography

Australian photographer Paul Freeman is renowned for his beautifully crafted images that capture the sensuality of the naked male form. In Freeman's latest book, " Heroics ," he turns his attention to the world of heroic deeds and manly bonding, with scenarios evoking the homoeroticism of the ancient Greeks and Romans, as well as of the French and British military empires.

Juxtapoz Magazine - Paul Freeman's Heroics

Paul Freeman always finds men that drive me insane with lust. All these hunks are hot, but my favorites are the cuties in #2 (18th-19th century naval officer's coat), 4 (Russian sailor's cap), and of course 6 (the suave hunk in the musketeer's hat).
