Customary Law in the Punjab has, in fact, reached a stage when it can no longer be said to be merely stored up in the unexpressed consciousness of the people.

Customary Law - Punjab, India

Under the Punjab Customary Law there is only one difference between the appointment of an heir (adoption) and a gift and that is that whereas in the latter case the property passes immediately to the donee, in the former the property does not vest in the appointed heir till the death of the adoptive father.

In the Punjab adoption under Customary Law is different from adoption under Hindu law in many respects. "The latter is founded on a spiritual idea, varying from the belief that a son is necessary to save a man's soul from the "Hell called Pat," to the very natural feeling of regret that your line should become extinct; that there should be no one to represent you in the family gatherings and offer the pind.
